The focus of Transition is to deploy your solution into the hands of your stakeholders. For phased rollouts, the Transition phase could consist of multiple iterations. Transition should be as short as possible, and for experienced teams the Transition phase will evolve into an activity that lasts minutes or hours, not days or weeks.